

HORSE AND PEOPLE NEWS

Winter is slowly creeping in. There's a chill in the morning and evening air. Please make sure your horse's blanket is at the yard.

After a terrible fall at a recent show, Danna is finally home after 3 weeks in hospital. She has a long road to recovery ahead of her. We all wish Danna strength and are continuing to keep her in our thoughts.

Kelly broke her finger while lunging her horse. At the hospital, she was trying to explain to the nurse what happened who couldn't understand how Kelly broke her finger while she was on the ground and without falling. Luckily, the doctor who came to treat Kelly, knew horses and understood exactly what lunging was and how she managed to break her finger. Get better soon Kelly!

Our condolences go out to Vanessa on the loss of her father and to Andy on the loss of his mother.

BLONDE OF THE MONTH

Brad asked Natalie to walk the cross country course with him for a recent show at Fourways Riding Centre.

As Brad had the map saved on his cellphone, Natalie had to ask him each time where the next jump was so she could check and advise on the lines he needed to take. After the course walk, Natalie suggested to Brad that he walk the course at least two more times to make sure he knew his course. He said he definitely would (we don't know if he did).

On show day, after his cross country round, Brad was standing around chatting and someone asked him "What comes after 10?" Brad couldn't understand why he was being asked this. Then he was asked if he jumped the blue barrels and he realised he hadn't. He had gone straight from jump number 10 to number 12, sailed past jump 11 without even realising it. It was a pity too as he had a brilliant dressage and jumping round. Of course, some blame was passed on to Natalie for Brad missing a jump but was she really at fault?

Cisco started spooking and being naughty with Mariska. She gave him a smack to get him to listen and as he reacted, her saddle slipped to the side and off she came. She had forgotten to tighten the girth!
